

An aerial photograph of a waterfront development at sunset. The scene features a large body of water with a curved shoreline. On the left, there are modern commercial buildings, including one with a 'W&B' sign and another with a 'TORCHYS' sign, along with a parking lot. In the center, a large, light-colored building with a blue roof sits on a grassy peninsula. To the right, there are more residential-style buildings and a swimming pool area. The background shows a vast expanse of water and distant land under a warm, orange-hued sky. The 'TOWNELAKE' logo is superimposed at the top, and a blue wave graphic is in the middle.
